Stock Index Fund (10)

FUND OBJECTIVE/STRATEGY

The fund seeks long-term capital growth. The fund invests primarily in common stocks that, as a group, are expected to provide investment results closely corresponding to the performance of the S&P 500® Index. It normally invests at least 80% of assets in stocks that are in the index and up to 20% in investments that are not in the index, including common stock and related securities, and high quality money market securities. The fund may invest up to 33 1/3% in futures and options. Although the fund seeks to track the performance of the index, the performance of the fund will not match that of the index exactly because, among other reasons, the fund incurs operating expenses and other investment overhead as part of its normal operations. The fund seeks a tracking difference of 0.05% or less.

DISCLOSURES

The data in the Standard Average Annual Return column are based upon the date the fund was included in the Separate Account. Returns for periods prior to the date the funds became available in the Separate Account are hypothetical and are derived from the performance of the underlying fund, adjusted to reflect fees, expenses, and surrender charges if applicable, of Portfolio Director as if the fund had been in the Separate Account during the stated period. If applicable, returns reflect deduction of all fees and charges, including surrender charges (a maximum of 5%) and account maintenance fees, but not premium taxes or IncomeLock fees. Partial or full surrenders may be subject to a charge of the lesser of either 5% of the sum of the contributions received during the prior 60 months or 5% of the amount withdrawn. A Separate Account charge is deducted from all variable investment options. The charge is calculated each day and is based on the average daily net asset value of each option at the Separate Account level. The charge is annualized at 0.35% to 1.25%, depending on the variable option and contract. There may be a quarterly account maintenance fee of only $3.75 for investments in the variable options, depending on the contract. There are no account maintenance fees for investments in the fixed options.

Returns in the Non-Standard Average Annual Return column reflect overall change in accumulation unit value from the beginning to the end of the periods shown, after deduction of fund expenses. Figures do not reflect deduction of account maintenance fees, surrender charges, IncomeLock fees or premium taxes. Returns for periods prior to the date the funds became available in the Separate Account are hypothetical and are calculated as if the fund had been in the Separate Account during the stated period.

For funds with less than a full year of performance, the returns are cumulative.

Retirement plans and accounts that satisfy relevant qualification rules, such as 403(b)s, IRAs, 401(k)s, etc., can be tax deferred regardless of whether or not they are funded with an annuity. If you are considering funding a tax-qualified retirement plan or account with an annuity, you should know that an annuity does not provide any additional tax-deferred treatment of earnings beyond the tax deferral of the tax-qualified retirement plan or account itself. However, annuities do provide other features and benefits.

Annuities are long-term investments. Income taxes are payable upon withdrawal. Federal restrictions and a 10% federal tax penalty may apply to withdrawals prior to age 59½.

Annuity contracts typically include limitations, surrender charges, exclusions and expense charges.

Fees and expenses are only one of several factors that participants and beneficiaries should consider when making investment decisions.

The cumulative effect of fees and expenses can substantially reduce the growth of a participant's or beneficiary's retirement account; visit the Employee Benefit Security Administration's website http://www.dol.gov/ebsa/publications/401k\_employee.html for an example demonstrating the long-term effect of fees and expenses.

†The total annual operating expense of the investment for a one-year period expressed as a dollar amount for a $1,000 investment assuming no returns.

Generally, higher potential returns involve greater risk and short-term volatility. For example:

- Small-cap, mid-cap, sector and emerging funds can experience significant price fluctuation due to business risks and adverse political developments.
- International (global) and foreign funds can experience price fluctuation due to changing market conditions, currency values, and economic and political climates.
- High-yield bond funds, which invest in bonds that have lower ratings, typically experience price fluctuation and a greater risk of loss of principal and income than when investing directly in U.S. government securities such as U.S. Treasury bonds and bills, which are guaranteed by the government for repayment of principal and interest if held to maturity.
- Mortgage-related funds' underlying mortgages are more likely to be prepaid during periods of declining interest rates, which could hurt the fund's share price or yield, and may be prepaid more slowly during periods of rapidly rising interest rates, which may lengthen the fund's expected maturity.
- Investors should carefully assess the risks associated with an investment in the fund. Fund shares are not insured and are not backed by the U.S. government, and their value and yield will vary with market conditions.

• An investment in money market funds is not insured or guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any other government agency. Although the Money Market I or Money Market II Funds seek to preserve the value of your investment at $1.00 per share, it is possible to lose money by investing in these funds.
